Entries:

This show is limited to 32 individuals on a first come, first served basis. You are not considered entered until your completed entry form and payment have both been received. We are only accepting full 8' table entries for this show, no half tables.

Entries are accepted via personal check or money order ONLY, made payable to Kelly Keracher (address on entry form.) There will be a $25 fee for bounced checks.

Awards:

1st through 6th place in each class will receive business card-sized ribbons. We will only be recording 1st and 2nd place entries, so please keep track of your other placings. Sectional champ/reserve awards are TBD. Division champ/reserve awards will be copies of the ceramic show medallion done in art glazes.

We will be applying for NAN qualification for this show. If approved, 1st and 2nd place models in each class will receive a NAN card. Fun classes are not eligible for NAN cards, but will have their own special prizes for winning entries.

General Info:

This is an all-china show. OF Resins are permitted to show in the division appropriate to the model's maker. Entries are limited to 3 models per class. Extra models may be entered for $1 apiece. There are no limits on total number of models entered, and no horse lists required. Each model may only show in one class.

Time Limits:

Five minutes between halter classes. We've got 200 total classes, and we want to be done by dinnertime, so the show will move quickly. **Note: as other divisions finish, we will likely double-load classes into those empty rings for any divisions with classes still occurring.

Documentation:

All divisions will be double-judged for both breed and collectability (all OF divisions) or workmanship (CMG and CMG Mini divisions) except Division 8 – Specialty/Misc as marked in the class list. Original finish models may not be altered from their factory finish in any way. Touch-ups are permitted, but may be penalized if the judge can tell the model has been touched up/repared. Models may only show in one class (fun classes excluded).

For breed classes, documentation for rare/exotic breeds is recommended, but not required. Please limit your documentation size to no larger than 8.5x11”.

Collectability documentation is required if you wish your model to be judged for collectability! Your documentation should include the following: model name, year(s) produced, maker, type of run (regular run, or specify the source if the model is a special run), quantity made (if known), and any special information about the model (variation, type of ceramic, etc.) See example below:

Tags: All models are required to have a leg tag. You must supply your own tags. One side of the tag should have the model's breed and gender; the other side of the tag should have the model's name and your three initials. See example below. Please write neatly! If we cannot read your tag, interpretation of your spelling is at the judge's discretion! Results for corrections will be posted prior to submission to NAMHSA.

Judging Criteria:

All models in breed classes will be judged on anatomy, biomechanics, color accuracy, breed standards/characteristics, gender assignment, realism, and condition.

All models in collectability classes with appropriate collectability documentation will be judged on the following criteria: age, rarity, desirability, and condition.

All models in the CMG and CMG Mini workmanship classes will be judged on the quality/evenness of the glaze work, neatness, accuracy/realism, and correctness of color and markings.

Judges' decisions are final! If you have a question about placing, please wait until the judge is finished placing the class and then you may ask your question. Arguing with any judge about placings will not be tolerated. Judges may split or combine classes at their discretion.
